Slow summer in Jordan Bowl

Golf course, Marriott timeshares will create few new jobs this year

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The disappointing year experienced by the Newry-based American Skiing Company (see sidebar below) is contributing to a slow-down in growth -- and at least a slight decline in jobs -- at ASC's local subsidiary, Sunday River Ski

The impact is most noticeable in Jordan Bowl, where Sunday River's ambitious plans for a golf course and vacation village, anchored by a 200-unit Marriott timeshare development, have been pushed back by at least a year.

But the Marriott development and golf course -- key elements of Sunday River's plan for continued growth -- are still moving ahead, according to Chip Seamans, the skiway's managing director.

The golf course plan was made public in January of 1998, and fol-. lowed later in the year by announcements of the vacation village and Marriott project.

When the vacation village plan was unveiled in July, Seamans projected that it could eventually more than double the number of year-round jobs at the resort (approximately 430 as of last year). But he also stressed the timetable

ASC's 3Q earnings fall despite increase in resort revenues

By MICHAEL DANIELS/AP

The American Skiing Company reported last week that net earnings fell 31.7 percent in its fiscal third quarter.

The company, the nation's largest operator of ski and snowboard resorts, earned $21.2 million, or 69 cents per share, in the three months ended April 25, compared to $31.7 million, or $1.03 per share, in the Overall revenues for the quarter also fell, from $185.2 million last year to $164.6 million this year. (Real estate revenue from last year's third quarter included $28.1 million related to the openings of the Killington and Mount Snow Grand Summit hotels. There were no similar openings this year.)

For the nine-month period that ended April 25, total revenues were

Telstar Class of 1999 will graduate Friday

Fifty-five members of the Class of 1999 will graduate Friday evening at Telstar High School's 31st Commencement.

Graduation week activities began Tuesday with Senior Class Day and Banquet at the Balsams Hotel in Dixville Notch, N.H.

Senior awards night was scheduled for Wednesday evening. Tonight (Thursday) class members, parents and friends will gather for "A Coming Together" service at 7 p.m. in the Telstar gymnasium.

Friday night's Commencement begins at 7:30 p.m. in the gym. Following the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance" processional, Rev. Brendon Bass will open the ceremony.

Those attending will be welcomed by class members Stacy

Bachelder and Neil Thurlow. They will be followed by speakers Jeffrey Chandler, Emily Phillips and Casey Brown -- the third honors student, salutatorian and valedictorian, respectively.

"Reflections" will be offered by Mandy Berry and Angela Buker, followed by all class members singing the choral selection "Today" by Smashing Pumpkins.

Kelly Scotti, chair of the SAD44 School Board, will offer Congratulatory Remarks on behalf of the board.

Supt. Kent Rosberg will then certify the graduates, and Principal Ted Davis will present the diplo-

WP troupers arrive June 13

Gould Academy graduate Teri Chadbourne grew up going to Up With People concerts. Now she's an UWP performer herself -- and was instrumental in bringing the 80-member international troupe to Bethel for a June 15 show.

Up with People was founded more than 30 years ago. Its purpose is to bring together young people from different countries to perform shows around the world. The participants also perform volunteer work in the host communities. Five different casts go on tour for a year. Chadbourne graduated from Gould Academy in 1998. While there, she participated in drama club, chorus and jazz band produc-

She joined her troupe last July. Chadbourne applied for the program after attending a concert in Portland. "After the show, they asked people (with an interest in applying) to come down front," she said. An interview followed. Participants were chosen based more on personality and interest in the program than on performing talent, she said. After several weeks of training at UWP's home base in Colorado, Chadbourne and the others hit the up a little of the language. Since then, she has been a performer. Her role?

"It changes a little every night," she said. "Sometimes I don't know until five minutes before I get on stage. She usually sings and dances in a supporting role.

After touring Europe, the production returned to tour the eastern U.S. and Canada. She recently had the opportunity to spend three weeks in Bermuda with some of the cast - a stay she enjoyed because she had more time to get to know her hosts, she said.

While in Bermuda, Chadbourne and her group volunteered at a horseback riding center for disabled children. She has had a variety of public service experiences on the tour. Some included school visits a plus for someone who plans to be an elementary school teacher. Chadbourne will attend Middlebury College this fall to prepare for an education career.

What has she learned in the past

"When I started the program, I expected the learning experience to be outer directed – learn about the cast and the communities." said Chadbourne. "But a lot of my learning has been about myself. I know myself better.'

Bethel show

The June 15 Bethel show will be the fourth from the last performance for the troupe. It was Chadbourne's idea to make Bethel a stop on the East Coast tour. It's been made a reality with the help of the Mahoosuc Arts Council and Vicki Rackliffe.

Titled "Roads," the show is a Broadway-style musical. It is the

SummerFest events planned

By ALISON ALOISIO The Up With People concert will coincide with a week of activities billed as "Bethel SummerFest Week.

Activities will run from June 10-19. They will include the June 17 rededication of the newly-remodeled Bethel Post Office and a kick-off to the town's Millennium Celebration. Bethel was recently designated a "Millennium Community" through a White House program that promotes arts and humanities and the preservation of history. The local program's purpose is to coordinate educational, creative and productive projects to commemorate the millennium.

The week of activities will also include sidewalk sales and specials by Main Street merchants. Other activities will include: music and dancing June 12; a "High Noon Snow Shovel Parade" June 13 from Main Street to the "remains" of snowman "Angus, King of the

Hedge on town common in Bryant Pond to fall

By ALISON ALOISIO

The hedge on Woodstock's town common is destined to be cut down

"It's unsightly, and it costs (the town) money to maintain," said town manager Vern Maxfield. The hedge -- along with a flagpole and a large spruce tree that is lit at Christmas time -- are located on private property.

Removing the hedge is part of an overall plan to move the common to town property located in front of the Town Office. The lot was purchased by the town about six years ago, after a house located on the site burned. The lot is roughly half an acre in size.

Woodstock has maintained the hedge for many years in exchange for use of the property, which is owned by Richard Chick. The arrangement was formalized in 1990 in a signed agreement between selectmen and Chick.

The hedge and tree have been there "as long as anyone can remember," said Maxfield. But it takes a town worker two or three days' work to trim the hedge, he said. Chick has given his consent to cut it, Maxfield said.

The option of removing the hedge has been discussed by selectmen off and on in recent months. Maxfield said no one he has spoken to has objected to the idea. The tree will be left standing.

Selectmen are considering purchasing a new evergreen tree to place on the new common. It would likely be planted this fall, "We'll have to do it three months prior to Christmas to let Santa Claus know," said selectman Leon Poland.

ITV -- A VITAL STARTING POINT

The Telstar ITV staff and students were delighted with last week's article featuring the accomplishments of our students, Diana Howe, Angela Gaudreau and Merrilee Ojeda. Readers may be interested to know that these exemplary students are three of a group of 375 individuals enrolled in ITV classes at the Telstar site since 1989. This spring, a new site record was set -- 84 enrollments by 44 individuals in 47 of the 100 courses available. Telstar is one of the three most active sites in the University of Maine system. We anticipate continued growth in the fall 1999 semester based on inquiries to date.

It was 10 years ago that we were awaiting the fall opening of the Telstar site; this was the result of hard work by many community members who lobbied hard to have Telstar included in the first round of sites. It is great to look back and see the results of that effort and to know that there are more opportunities to come, particularly with the advent of Internet-based courses.

ITV is a vital starting point for individuals wanting to begin or continue their college education. Many students combine classes on ITV or the Internet with more traditional classes on campus. This allows tremendous savings in mileage and time for busy adult students. The schedules for Summer Term II, starting in July and for fall 1999, are available at the Adult Education office at Telstar. There is some scholarship help available as well as information on the financial aid

We are very proud of all our students and hope that others will join them in pursuing college educations. Please call the Adult Education office at 824-2780 for further information.

MAKING-TIME-COUNT FORUM

To the Editor:

Recently Bethel was recognized as the first Millennium community in the state of Maine. The Millennium Committee chose as its theme "Making Time Count: Then, Now and Always." We would like to extend an invitation to the general public to attend an informational forum explaining the goals of a Millennium Community on June 8 at 7 p.m. at the Crescent Park School cafeteria.

It is our sincere hope that a local Millennium Council could be formed composed of representatives of every organization, institution and business in Bethel. Together our purpose is to inspire and coordinate educational, creative and productive projects which commemorate this milestone in time, thus bringing our community together in spirit and celebration.

The Millennium Council has three goals.

--On June 17 at 10 a.m. the Post Office on Main Street will be rededicated. There will be an official stamp cancellation marking the event. This event represents honoring the past and celebrates those who worked to keep the Post Office in the center of our village.

--Celebrate the future through the arts and humanities by involving the local schools in the design of a sculpture/sundial that will mark the Millennium with the theme "Making Time Count: Then, Now and Always." This sculpture will use local resources that have been utilized in the area through the ages.

-- Create a timeless garden and new walkway paved with commemorative bricks etched with a family name, a place that truly honors the past while projecting into the future.

This is a huge undertaking, and it is our sincerest wish that every citizen in Bethel be a part of this celebration of the Millennium. Please join us on June 8.

MAIN STREET FESTIVAL

To the Editor:

I am encouraged by the number of people in Bethel who are engaged in activities to preserve and celebrate life on Main Street. There is a real sense of the value of what Main Street is and can be and also an appreciation of community gathering and fun in Bethel.

Bethel citizens should feel proud about the return of the Post Office to Main Street and upcoming rededication. An entire week of local events kick off the summer in Bethel and happen to surround this happy event.

Everyone is invited to the activities, which are listed in this issue of The Bethel Citizen and posted around town. Look for "Main Street Bethel Festival: A Week of Local Events."

As co-chairs of the Bethel Historical Society's St. Never's Day, we would like to say thank you to the many people who helped make it a big success. To all the volunteers who picked up goods for sale; or sorted and priced; or hauled things out and arranged them on the porch and in the yard; acted as cashiers; or helped to clean up afterward; there were too many of you to name individually, but we thank you very, very much for all your time and hard work.

To all who donated items for the sale, the society appreciates your generosity and we thank you for making the sale possible. And of course, to the many folks who came, browsed, and spent their money, we couldn't have done it without you, so please accept our thanks and

Now we're looking forward to the open house and ribbon cutting at the Robinson House on June 3, starting at 6 p.m. We hope to see you all-there. Thanks again.

DEDICATION IN WEST PARIS FIRE DEPARTMENT

To the Editor:

Several members of the West Paris Fire Department recently completed intensive two-day training modules at the Cumberland County Fire Attack School in Gorham. One of the courses, "Firefighter One, Module One" is a 16-hour program designed to teach fire behavior basics and standard techniques in firefighting. Combining book-work with video and hands-on learning, instructors put firefighter Rick Cook through the different objectives and skill-stations. This is the first of several modules that all firefighters in the state should be trained in.

Two other members, Chief Gary Latno and First Deputy Chief Ken Bacon, participated in classes to increase their arson awareness and leadership skills. Chief Latno received intense training in "Arson Investigation." As this type of crime increases and filters down to even our smaller communities, local departments must be ready to identify a potential crime scene and know the steps necessary to preserve it. Deputy Chief Bacon attended a National Fire Academy course entitled "Fire Leadership and Administration." Taught by NFA instructor Bob Bohlmann, participants learned valuable ways to retain and recruit members of a volunteer fire department, and many of the state and federal laws governing the fire service were also addressed.

In a separate class conducted by Eastern Maine Technical College and the Maine Fire Training and Education Service, Captain and Training Officer Craig Moore participated in a weekend course on "Structure Ventilation." A vital part of controlling a fire, venting involves knowing how fire spreads, and what can be done to effectively move thermal drafts and smoke to the firefighter's advantage to allow them entrance into a fire building for rescue and successful fire extinguishment with the least amount of damage.

All four members successfully completed their courses and received certificates at their respective levels. Their dedication to learning and their willingness to take a weekend away from other activities is greatly

HOST FAMILIES SOUGHT

To the Editor:

Do you know someone from Ghana? How about Venezuala? Japan, maybe? OK, I got it, Poland? If your answer is no, you can make it a yes. If you would like to meet someone from an exotic location, we have a great opportunity for you. The Bethel advance team for the international organization Up With People needs your help. The international cast of young people between age 17 and 25 from over 22 countries need host families during their three-night visit to Bethel. They will be here Sunday, June 13, through Wednesday, June 16. Host families receive two complimentary tickets to the Tuesday, June 15, show at Telstar Regional High School Gymnasium at 7 p.m.

The visit is being sponsored by Mahoosuc Arts Council, Phil and Mary Chadbourne, The Bethel Citizen, WOXO Radio, and U-Save Auto Rental. For more information, call 824-5982 and ask for the Up With People advance team. We still need 72 beds, and we don't want anyone sleeping on the streets of Bethel. We hope to be speaking with you soon. Please call us for any information regarding ticket purchases, hosting or getting more information about the Up With People organization.

Conkright charged in traffic incident

WEST PARIS--Former Newry Fire Chief Tink Conkright has been charged with ramming his car into a Central Maine Power Co. worker after driving through downed power lines on Route 26 Friday. Conkright, 49, is charged with driving to endanger, leaving the scene of an accident and failure to report an accident by the quickest means available. He was arrested on Route 232 in Rumford about 20 minutes later. The power lines were downed when lumber atop an electric transformer being hauled by CMP workers brushed against utility lines, causing them to snap, according to deputy Tom Albrecht of the Oxford County Sheriff's Department. CMP workers were diverting traffic while waiting for police when Conkright rammed into Byron Condon, 47, who is from Augusta, knocking him down, Albrecht said. Condon was treated at the scene. Conkright was released from the Oxford County Jail on $1,000 bail.

Snowe staffer in Bethel

BETHEL-Office outreach hours for Maine Sen. Olympia Snowe are scheduled for the Bethel Town Office tomorrow (Friday). Regional representative Jane Desaulniers will be available from 2 to 4 p.m. to discuss specific problems, legislative issues or concerns regarding the federal government. For more information call 1-(800)-432-1599.

Davis Park benefit

NEWRY--A recreation event titled "Splash into Summer" will take place June 25 at the Sunday River Adventure Park and will benefit the Davis Park Playground in Bethel. The center's skate park, climbing wall and water slide will all be available for use during the evening. The price is $5 per person or $15 for a family. The Newry Recreation Committee will pay the admission fee for all Newry residents. The proceeds will go toward recent additions to the Davis Park Playground.

Chickadee plates coming

AUGUSTA--Distribution of Maine's new chickadee license plates begins July 1. The new plates will be made available to motorists a few weeks before their current registration expires. It will take a full year for all motorists to receive new plates. A reservation system has been established to allow motorists to retain their current plate number when the new plates are distributed. A form may be obtained at any motor vehicle branch office and municipal offices that process motor vehicle registrations. A $15 fee is required and a copy of the current registration must be included with the form. Anyone who does not wish to reserve a plate number will be issued a chickadee plate bearing the next available number at no additional charge.

WMNF program offers funds

ALBANY--A White Mountain National Forest Program is offering communities $100,000 for projects in and around the forest. The "Community's Partner Program" offers funds for wildlife habitat and recreation projects. One town has proposed a bike path through the forest, for example. The maximum for each project is $20,000, with awards to be made in August. The deadline for applications is July 31. For more information call 1-(603)-466-2713 ext. 226.

Report cites mill violations

BANGOR--A recent report on Maine paper mills shows Mead Oxford Corporation's Rumford plant among several that were cited for violations of the Clean Air Act in the past two years but which escaped with little or no fines. "Dozens of big corporate polluters ... continually break America's clean air laws, often racking up over a dozen infractions at a time, and get off scot-free," said an Environmental Working Group report. "Other polluting facilities get slapped daintily on the wrist with fines that constitute a ludicrously and lucratively small fraction of their multibillion-dollar profits." Other Maine mills noted for violations were Fort James, Lincoln Pulp & Paper Co. and Georgia-Pacific's Woodland facility. But paper company and state Department of Environmental Protection officials said the report presents an inaccurate picture. A Fort James spokesman said the fines were accrued over five years, not two, and were linked to problems with one of the plant's power boilers. They were not for anything "significant or major," said Mark Lindley. He noted some violations lasted for only six minutes and that the company was in compliance 99.9 percent of the time. Jim Brooks, director of DEP's air quality bureau, said the report unfairly singled out a few paper companies for criticism. "I don't think any one mill has a perfect record," he said. "It's unfair to single out these companies and say we're not enforcing the law. We're doing better than a lot of states." EWG said it based its report on analysis of two years' worth of data from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

In-state long-distance rates drop

PORTLAND-Beginning Sunday access rates phone companies pay to use Bell Atlantic phone lines dropped from 14 cents to 5 cents a minute for in-state long-distance calls. The rates were cut from 20 cents to 14 cents a minute last year. But the same day, basic phone service charges went up an average of $2 a month. They increased by $1.50 a month a year ago. Bell Atlantic, which has roughly 683,000 lines to residences and businesses in the state, is expected to generate an extra $16 million a year from the higher monthly charges. That amount, however, does not offset the revenues that Bell expects to lose because of the lower access rates. The new access rate cut could still save customers money, and may result in other phone companies' rates dropping as well.

Tourism workers in short supply

AUGUSTA--A robust economy and gasoline prices that remain low by historical standards are cause for optimism as Maine begins the summer tourist season. But -- like last year -- hotels and restaurants are finding seasonal help is in short supply. "There are very few employable people left," said Kathryn Weare, owner of the Cliff House in York, which hires four to six workers a year from Austria to fill out the staff. One resort manager said he would hire more students if they didn't have to quit work early to return to school. The Maine Innkeepers Association spearheaded an effort to bar public schools and the University of Maine System from starting classes before Labor Day. A bill before the Legislature was unsuccessful, however.

PORTLAND-A revised forecast by the company that manages the nation's telephone area code system will enable Maine to retain its single area code (207) until at least the end of 2001. Lockheed Martin, which had projected last year that Maine would run out of numbers in the summer of 2000, said last week its forecast had changed. "We're happy because this buys us some time," said Trina Bragdon, a staff attorney at the Maine Public Utilities Commission, which is lobbying to keep the single area code. The PUC says there are about 7.9 million phone number combinations available in Maine, but only 2.1 million are in use. However, a shortage has developed because of the way the numbers are distributed to the hundreds of local, long-distance and wireless phone companies. Federal law requires that phone numbers be distributed to the companies in blocks of 10,000, even if the carrier only needs a small number of them. Sen. Olympia Snowe backs a petition by the PUC to be allowed to distribute the numbers in blocks of 1,000. "I think it's totally unnecessary to divide the state up into another area code. We have enough (numbers) under the existing area code that represents five times Maine's population," she said. Some phone companies oppose the request because they say it would create a new burden on the industry. A decision on the issue will be made by the Federal Communications Commission within a few months. Sen. Susan Collins introduced legislation in April that would force the FCC to develop a national plan for distributing phone numbers by the end of next year. Collins' legislation would grant public utility commissions the authority to implement state conservation measures while the FCC develops the national plan.

From the Bethel Police Log:

ATVers collide

At 6:39 p.m. on May 30 police were called to the scene of an ATV accident with two subjects injured. The complainant advised two juveniles were riding ATVs and collided. The accident occurred on offroad trails, so a game warden was advised.

Friday, May 28

At 11:50 a.m. police observed a tank-type truck approaching at high speed (66 miles per hour) on Route 26. The officer stopped the truck and checked the driver's license and registration. The license had been suspended for failure to fill out a form for an accident. The driver was given a summons for speeding and a summons for OAS. Later in the day, the subject produced a receipt from the Department of Motor Vehicles and a 10-day temporary license. After a check with DMV, the officer "tore up" the summons.

Saturday, May 29

At 6:20 p.m. police stopped a subject on the Parkway for running a stop sign. A check showed his license was suspended in Massachusetts and not on file in Maine. Lawrence S. Murphy of Abington, Mass., was issued a summons for operating without a license and for failure to stop

At 1:30 a.m. police stopped a subject on Chapman Street for swerving and operating left of the center of the road. He was given field sobriety tests. James J. Sweetser, 41, of Gorham, N.H., was arrested for OUI. He was taken to the Oxford County Jail, issued a summons and held in

Sunday, May 30

At 7:50 a.m. police stopped a subject for speeding on the Songo Pond Road. A license check showed a suspended status for failure to pay a fine. Kelley Mathias, 21, of Bethel was summonsed for the offense.

This report highlights points of interest from the Bethel Police Department log, but does not include all reports of police activity. To reach the Bethel Police Department, call 911 in emergency situations, 824-3437 in non-emergencies. An answering machine takes calls when an officer is not in the office.

From the Bethel Town Office:

The month of June kicks-off a fundraising campaign for the Bethel Fire Department's 'Jaws of Life' account. This account, first created 10 years ago by a fundraising campaign, is maintained by the Fire Department for necessary repairs, parts, or replacement of the 'Jaws of Life' equipment. Many people realize that this tool is invaluable at car accidents to cut through metal to extract the crash victims. Over the years, the use of this tool has meant the difference of 'life or death' for residents, as well as travelers through our town. Many of us personally know someone who has been rescued by the Bethel Fire Department responding to a mutual aid call for the 'Jaws of Life' tool. In addition to the equipment, the department maintains active training for firemen

A recent mutual aid call for the 'Jaws' caused a need for substantial repair and consideration of the purchase of a newer, up-to-date device. Purchase of this equipment is based on fundraising, and is not included as a normal budget expense. The Bethel Fire Department's goal is to raise the almost $10,000 needed for a new tool purchase. We are counting on the same financial commitment citizen's showed years ago by contributing toward this fund.

Tax deductible contributions can be made out to the Town of Bethel Fire Department, with a memo noting 'Jaws of Life Fund'. Donors, who wish to remain anonymous, please indicate so in an enclosed note. The success of the campaign will be listed in the Bethel Citizen, the town register, and on a Fire Station wall certificate.

Also, mark your calendars for Saturday, June 19, as a day of family and evening fun towards this campaign and safety training. The Bethel Fire Department is holding a pig and turkey roast, with plenty of food and a vegetarian buffet, at the American Legion Hall, in Locke Mills on the Gore Road.

Family events include an actual 'Jaws of Life' demonstration on junk cars, a fire hose shootin' review of the new fire truck, and a music and variety show for the kids during suppertime. The evening's event will be a country rock hoot night featuring local bands and musicians to enjoy and dance until midnight.

Because the 'Jaws of Life' is used by mutual aid agreement with surrounding towns all area citizens are welcome to mail in contributions and join us on June 19 when we put the fun in fundraising. Keep your eyes open for posters and more information.

slower than initially expected. At the time the timeshare project was announced, a Marriott spokesman said the company hoped to have units ready to accommodate skiers by the beginning of the 1999-2000 season.

That's now unlikely, said Seamans. "The Marriott is moving forward, but we are not sure of the timetable at this point."

He said Sunday River and Marriott were working on finalizing the agreement, and on site work and architecture, but do not plan to begin construction this summer.

Seamans denied the Marriott deal was being held up by the tight financial situation of the skiway and

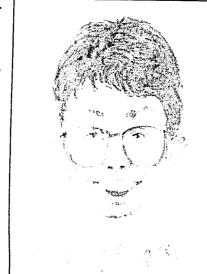

"That's true of some other projects, he said, "but not of the Marproject. The Sunday River/Marriott deal is part of a larger deal with ASC and we're ironing out all the details.

"The Jordan Village itself is going forward, but I would say the pace of everything has slowed a bit for the summer."

One of the "other projects" that has been directly affected by the tight-money situation is the 18-hole championship golf course announced last year for Jordan Bowl. When the project was announced

"an OK year," Seamans said. "We started out with the warm fall and did much better the second half of the year. We did not have the year we'd hoped for, but I feel good that the people who did come to the resort had a good experience, the weather." and we heard good things about what was new this year."

Seamans said the past year also provided valuable experience for a number of new staff members at the skiway.

"But with both hotels being full service it keeps more folks around," he said. And the adventure center and mountain park will add staff when they open full time by the end of the month. The resort also hopes to build two four-unit townhouses in the Locke Mountain complex, Seamans said, but needs to sell "a couple more units before beginning construction on those. And that would be a great help for employment this summer."

Seamans conceded the tight financial situation has led "to a lot of rumors, and we just want to keep our staff informed of the real picture, and we want everybody to know the company is healthy and going forward. also down, to $298.9 million from said. $317.4 for the same period of the preceding fiscal year.

Total skier visits for the year ended May 23 dropped to nearly 5.1 million, compared to more than 5.3 million in the previous year.

However, ASC's resort revenues (which do not include real estate sales) rose 7 percent during the third quarter of this year.

ASC's chief financial officer Mark J. Miller said: "Driven by higher lift ticket yields and healthy increases in our ancillary business segments, particularly lodging and skier development, we achieved higher resort revenues this quarter than the third quarter of fiscal 1998, despite an overall lower number of skier visits. In doing so, we overcame many of the challenges presented by this year's unseasonably warm winter season, which resulted in a lack of industry-wide momentum entering the third quarter.

"Additionally, in late April, we retained two leading investment banks to evaluate the financial alternatives that will best allow us to reduce our leverage, pursue our growth strategy and recognize greater shareholder value," Miller

Les Otten, ASC's chief executive officer said: "Our commitment to new skiers through our Learn to Ski Discovery Centers was received with overwhelming enthusiasm during the third quarter. We are confident that this expansion in our skier development business will provide sustained growth as we lead the industry in attracting and retaining new participants to onsnow sports.

"Our real estate business also made significant strides during the third quarter, Otten said. "With skier visits returning to more normal levels during the quarter, we saw a corresponding increase in real estate sales in the East, and pre-sales at Steamboat and the Canyons returned to healthy levels.

"Looking ahead, we remain confident about the prospects for our business, both in real estate and resorts. While the 1998-1999 ski season did not meet our initial expectations due to protracted poor weather conditions, Otten said, "we are taking the steps necessary to position American Skiing Company for future success and sustained growth."

A telephone call from Kathryn Davis Hamlin, Longmeadow, Mass., made my Memorial Day. It was wonderful. She had read about Songo Pond Beach in The Citizen. We reminisced about the good old days when we went swimming every day. There was a float with a tower, slide and diving board in those days. Mr. Clough dragged a rake through the beach water to

I was asked recently if I was angry with David for selling out to Rite Aid. I said "No, but why do you'ask?" They then said because I did not trade at Rite Aid. I told them that the reason for that was that when I asked the prices of my prescription drugs at Rite Aid they were a whole lot higher than I had been paying at Preb's. So I took a friend's advice and called Ketner's and found their prices about like I had been paying at Preb's. So of course'I went to Ketner's. Éleanor LeComte The weather was glorious for Memorial Day weekend, although the mosquitoes did their utmost to disturb the tranquillity. The lilacs cooperated and bloomed on May 30. We usually don't see them till around June 6. The lupine should put on their show in about seven or eight days. The activity level on the lake was higher than ever. The public landing in Cambridge was packed with cars, trucks and boat trailers. The Bull Moose Campground and the Umbagog Family Campground had quite a number of campers. Wilderness campgrounds around the lake were well used. It was good to hear the lawn mowers and smell of the cut grass again, There is no "in between" in Upton. It is winter one week and then overnight it is glorious sum-

There were many visitors to the trimmed to perfection. We thank the Mundt-Allen Legion Post for placing flags on our veterans' graves reminding us that Memorial Day was intended to honor those who gave service to our country. There were many visitors in town using their camps or just hanging out with family and friends. Among those spending the weekend in God's country were Carl and Hamel family, Sandy and Gene Bernier hosted many campers, picnickers and friends at Heritage of the week. Farm. There were over 45 guests. Also visiting on Back Street were John and Avis Arata, Richard and Gerry Guay, the Regis Cameron family and the Connelly family.

George and Simone Hamel have returned from a Mediterranean cruise. They visited Greece, Italy, Spain, Monte Carlo and many other ports. George tells me that it has not rained in four years in the section of Greece that they toured.

Elsie Fuller, who will be 88 years old this year, is planning to have a small garden again. This very wise lady does not plant till the full moon has passed. She knows that many people plant too early, only to find that Jack Frost is still hovering in Upton.

Last week, I stated that the Abbott Family reunion was to be held on July 24. Sylvia Wight called and told me that is the Barnett Family reunion -- I apologize for my error.

Vi Bernier and Sue Angevine have been getting the library ready for a projected opening date of Saturday, June 5.

Every day we receive lots of junk mail and requests for fund donations to various organizations. Most are filed in the circular file. The other day we received one that beats them all. You've seen "Adopt a Highway" or "Adopt a Stray Pet" I'm sure. This circular wanted us to "Adopt a Bat." It was not a joke. It named seven kinds of bats, but not our dubious friend, the little brown bat. I'm not insulted. We have billions of bugs up here and therefore a corresponding number of bats. with Pastor Rodney Hanscom at the pulpit and daughter Nancy at the organ. The prelude was by Jay Hanscom and a responsive reading by Bob Munro. The Message of the Day was "The Holy Spirit" from St. John 17:39. "But this spoke he of the Spirit, which they believe on Him should receive; for the Holy Ghost was not yet given; Because that Jesus was not yet glorified." A prayer followed, hymn, benediction and postlude. Amen. We took to the road, Karlene, Ras and I, heading to Stratton, to visit with Ras' father, Aaron Bachelder, who is 97 years old. We headed toward Errol and took Route 16. This was after lunch on Saturday, May 22. En route we spotted about five moose and one deer, all at different places. Karlene had brought her camera and took some pictures. It was great to see so many wild animals during the day. We landed almost in the old man's backyard. We visited a short while with Aaron's daughter and his granddaughter, who were also there. We headed back home by way of

Farmington and stopped at Burger

King for supper. Do you remember our native son, artist Brent Bachelder, who went to Providence, R.I. to seek his fortune? He graduated from the School of Design in 1989 with a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in sculpture and started his business called "Neapolis Creation" on June 5, 1989, and continued to create murals, signs, graphics and illustrations, as well as a wide variety of custom artworks for a multitude of for-profit businesses and also for nonprofit organizations. He teaches at many local places, including the Learning Connection, the Trudeau Center (retarded adults), City Arts (an inner center city arts organization), as well as local community centers and schools on a freelance basis. Well, he is pretty busy. Lately, he just graduated from the Rhode Island College on May 20 with a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree

Eleanor Nelson

Hi readers. It seems that the weeks roll right around fast nowadays. Frances Grant and I went to the Chapman Cemetery in Gilead and put flowers on our Aunt Goldie Wight, and Fred and girls' graves one day recently. The tulips planted there last fall were blossomed really pretty.

People -- look out. Molly Nelson got her driver's license. She got it on the very first test. Congratulations, Molly.

Our sympathy and prayers are with the family and friends of Minnie White, who passed away this past week. She used to run a turkey farm here in Lynchfield years ago. She was a hard worker and a good sport.

What is with the wild animals here in Stoneham? First, a real live owl flew through the open window of Craig Adams' truck, striking him

Colista Morgan June and we like to see the shadows lie in the valley as the sun ips the crest of the mountains. June -- the month of many kinds of things. It has its own tranquillity. It's a time of growth and the coming of summer. There is the fragrance of the lily-of-the-valley, the mist of which floats over the lawns. One can almost hear the grass grow. Everything is in its top greenness with hundreds of odors blended into one.

June -- called the month of roses even though the best bloom may not come until July.

June -- a time of wild strawberries red and juicy. June -- with new mown hay as fragrant as lilacs, dewy on a May Yes, June is many things. We hope it brings sun with rays to penetrate into every crevice of the earth. We'll go to bed with windows hoisted while outside the moon gleams on the dark mass of trees and makes a path across the pond to the hill beyond. The frogs' voices still float but not as loud as a month ago. Right now the dandelions and apple blossoms are lovely. Rosebreast sings to me.

mother of the late Nick Clements. Charlotte Thompson is visiting her daughter, Marta Clements, for a month or so.

Graduates for the Class of 1999 from South Woodstock or nearby are: Jeff Chandler, Staci Littlehale, Cylas Cash, Neil Thurlow, Brandy Poland, Jaime Leonard, Tim Hilden, Emily Phillips and my granddaughter, Jessie Hart. Congratulations to all.

Congratulations go out to Jan Cox, who has completed four certifications that were required for MHIT 1. She also completed nine college credits towards MHIT 2. There will be a graduation at the Blaine House in Augusta that Jan will be in. She has been studying nine months. Her children, Desman and Desirae, are very proud of their mother for her accomplishments.

A 90th birthday party was held for Aarne Jarvenpaa at the Finnish American Society Hall. About 70 people attended. The celebration was given by six of his nieces and grandnieces. Several people told of memories of past years of knowing Aarne. It was held as an open house and people stopped by during the day. Finnish music was played and many danced to the music. Refreshments were served. A good time was enjoyed by everyone, many who had not seen Aarne for a while.

We have new neighbors across the road. They are Mr. and Mrs. Blazier. We wish them much happiness and pleasure in their new home and welcome them to South Woodstock.

Several attended the baby shower for Connie Rice at Judy Brown's home on Sunday. Connie received many useful and cute presents.

Larry Billings, curator of the Woodstock Historical Society, reports that he has given the area schools the society's Internet address so students can access it. The society takes advantage of new technology while dealing with the has nine, another five and then one has four. I notice when there are large numbers that they tend to lose more babies, I presume by accident not design. One mama took her babies across the road because people were fishing at the culvert. I didn't think that was particularly smart but maybe it was to the duck. Anyway, there is now a cute sign saying "duck crossing." Bet I could guess who put it there, but I won't. Princess was sick a couple of days this week. She kept going to the car when she was out and Ltold Andy I thought she wanted to go to the doctor. He laughed at me, but years ago my dog "Chum" hated to ride, but if he didn't feel well he'd get into my uncle's car the minute he opened the door. Anyhow, we took her and she had impacted glands and after the treatment she felt much better.

We certainly have been busy this week. Monday evening we had a housewares party here. Debbie Brown demonstrated. She said it was her 13th party and we had 13 people here. I'm not sure what that is supposed to signify, if anything. I had a good time and I hope everyone else did. Those present besides Debbie, Owen, Andy and I, were Debbie Grant, Crystal Grant, Mary Stone, Denise Swan, Crystal Lake, Ann Fitzmorris, Rhonda Mitchell, Carolyn Colby and Gerry Shimamura. Ann Fitzmorris and I were in the Norway area on Wednesday, We had lunch at an area restaurant and Ann did some shopping. It is crazy there at Wal-Mart with all the construction going on. The entrance has been moved, no one knew where the motorized carts had been put and the way they have blocked off aisles, I don't see how anyone can use them anyway in some places. But all the construction hasn't deterred shoppers any that I can see. It was certainly busy enough and when we got to the grocery store, there were even more shoppers. Ann reminded me it was a holiday weekend that was coming up. Guess everyone is planning a cookout except us. I keep a low profile on Memorial Day.

nice variety of food. After supper we where entertained by Gary Inman and Lesley Rouse with slides and very interesting talk on their experiences in China. This was their second trip to China. This time they adopted a cute little baby, Ani. The first trip they returned with a bright-eyed girl named Caili. They seem like a really happy fam-

Bryant Pond

Alice Hoyt Congratulations to Anita and David Shaw of Bryant Pond, who celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary this month. On the first Sunday of May, Joe Perham gave a sermon at the Bryant Pond Universalist Church, He also sang a beautiful song called "Scarlet Ribbons." This past Sunday, Joseph Sirois gave a sermon on "Spirituality" and how it means to treat other people as you would like to be treated. Den Corrin played the guitar as several men accompanied singing him "Amazing Grace." Den is trying very hard to revitalize the church so the congregation becomes larger. The Universalist Church is open to any religion. Church services are on the first and third Sundays of each month at 9 a.m.

A large moose was seen crossing Route 26 on Merryfield Hill this past week. Sometimes the black flies cause them to walk out of the woods.

Thank you to all who helped clean the cemeteries. They look very good just in time for Memorial Day. Also looking good is the Village Store with its new floor and flowers. Has anyone noticed the flowering crab tree at the post office? It is beautiful. The Maine Conservation School's office is now in the Stonehouse. The Stonehouse has a lot of renovations. New classrooms have also been built in the Stonehouse.

The Bagleys from Florida have returned to Bryant Pond. They rent a house on Route 26 for the summer, and they have done so for the last few years.

Annie Cushman, daughter of Matt and Nancy Cushman, turned two years old on May 17.

Someone sent me all the above news. I would like to thank them. But would you please include your name and telephone number so I could contact you if need be. Thank

Services at the Bryant Pond Baptist Church are each Sunday. Sunday School for all ages is at 9:15 a.m. and services are at 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m. On Wednesday there is a prayer meeting at 7 p.m.; Thursday is Women's Bible Study at 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. and also Men Discipleship Class at 7 p.m.; Saturday is choir practice at the Keniston's at 4 p.m. Looking ahead: June 13 is promotion Sunday at Sunday School and Tom Gibbons, missionary to Argentina, will speak at the morning service; on June 16 Missionary Hattie Kneeland will speak at the prayer meeting, and on June 20 Winfield Holman will give an update of his ministry at the morning service. On Channel IV TV a rebroadcast of the Sunday services is on Saturday at 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. and Thursday is Bryant Pond Hour at 4 and 7 p.m.

The Woodstock-Greenwood Senior Citizens will meet on Thursday, June 3, at the Country Way.

Franklin Grange 124 will meet on Monday, June 7. The program is Memorial and Election of Officers

The Woodstock High School Alumni Banquet will be held at the American Legion Hall in Locke Mills on June 12. The supper is at 6 p.m. Special guests are the classes of 1929, 1939, 1949 and Telstar seniors from Woodstock and Greenwood.

Five members of Judith Grover Tent 17 D.U.V. attended the cookout and meeting honoring the department president, Mary G. Jones at East Stoneham, on Wednesday.

Curator Larry Billings has given the Historical Society a fine print of a ship in a very elegant frame. The Internet address for the Historical Society is posted on the bulletin board near the entrance to the museum and the library also has it. The historical society fosters greater awareness of our heritage and traditions. It is an important fixture in the community after 20 years and benefits everyone. You can participate in its success as a member or a supporter. Take an interest in this worthwhile organization.

It has been brought to my attention that someone is removing the markers on soldiers' graves where we put the flags. They aren't cheap to buy and it would be much appreciated if they were returned. It's pretty low to steal from the dead, especially a veteran.

All other suppers will be at 5 p.m. and on Saturdays.

A goodly number attended the ceremony at the East Bethel Cemetery on Memorial Day. Everyone appreciates Jackson-Silver Post 68 doing the honors for the war#dead.

I congratulate "Chick" Fitzmorris as the new post commander of Jackson-Silver Post 68.

Gloria Wilson and Esther Wilson climbed Tumble Down Mountain on May 31. When they got home, a wood duck was on the pond by Esther's house.

Jim and Donna Bernard of Andover visited Polly Smith on their return from Florida.

Marilyn Mollicone of Augusta, Carolyn Grant of Winterport, Alice Grant of Cape Elizabeth, Priscilla Jackson and children of Old Town visited Leslie Noyes and Nina Mollicone during Memorial Day weekend.

Beth Myers and Tim McGuire will be at the Farmers' Market in Bethel starting on June 5.

Jack and Lucy Nordahl were canoeing on Mooselookmeguntie Lake on May 28. They were on Cape Cod the first part of May.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Dalke and children of Shrewsbury, Mass., visited Florence Hastings recently. Sonny and Bettyann Hastings spent Memorial Day weekend at their cottage on the Coast.

Congratulations to Vicki Coolidge and Jim Haines on graduation from Telstar Regional High School.

WOODSTOCK ROADSIDE SPRING

The Residents of the Town of Woodstock voted at their annual town meeting to do major renovations at the roadside spring to ensure its continued use. The owners of the property on which the spring is located are very interested in having this project completed and have been a great help to the town in this regard. We will have a written agreement with them which will preserve the use of the spring for

"as long as the spring provides water for public use." If you would like to contribute to this effort in a financial way you may send a contribution to the following address:

Rocke Graham Crab apple blosoms blanket our dusty, dry yard as next year's woodpile begins to appear under the careful guidance and hours long work of David Fleet. Tasha takes it all in stride, greeting him when he arrives, sniffing at him and all the truck's tires. I offer very limited assistance.

My walks down the road have shown me the fir trees with their new, mint green tips. A solitary, pale pink Lady's Slipper appears, a queen amidst flowerless greens, as waiting to be taken to the ball. The yard smells of freshly cut grass and the sweetness of apple blossoms as they scatter in the wind. The tree stands not nearly as white as it did before the rains. It was a good drenching rain that soaked into the thirsty ground. At times the wind whipped the rain around so that it also was raining inside. It was long overdue and much

Even though I felt terribly guilty to be indoors on such a nice spring day, I managed to get together with some friends and go see the new Star Wars movie. Although maybe not as good as the earlier ones, it was fun to watch. I especially like the juxtaposition of the old and the new that could be found throughout the film. It showed old-style architecture along side futuristic robotic creatures. I liked the fact that most of those that died were robots and not living creatures. The noise really struck me. Nothing was quiet or contemplative; there were all sorts of machines, laser guns, etc. I do not remember that much noise, previously. Now I have to go back and see the old ones, again, and remind myself what happens next and how the story transpired. Today, Sunday, I met with Exneighbors Nancy and Kevin and we all went to Pooh Corner and bought plants. They wanted to have some potted flowers and herbs. I needed some vegetable plants and my yearly pansies. Some years I can get the pansies to survive for two seasons, not this time. I even got been fixing up the yard. It is possisome plants and seeds into the ground. Perhaps the peas will come too. There was a red car visible, up by the Fourth of July. They never have before, but they might.

ADULT ED GRADS--The Class of 1999 for SAD44 Adult Education graduated May 26 in ceremonies at the Bethel Inn. The speaker was Patricia Vampatella, assistant dean of academic affairs at Central Maine Technical College. Student speakers were Eugenie Macie and Heather Downs, SAD44 Board Chair Kelly Scotti, superintendent Kent Rosberg, and Adult Education Director Cathy Newell offered congratulatory remarks. Learning Center staff Merrill Bittner, Lee Dolleman and Jeanette Baldridge presented book awards to the graduates. Shown here are, front (from left): Kimberly Poulin of Locke Mills, Crystal Jacques of Bryant Pond, Eugenie Macie of Locke Mills, Heather Downs of Locke Mills; back: Michael Swett of Gardiner, Tim Frisk of Dixfield, Matt Collins of Bethel, Jeremy Melix of Greenwood. In addition to those pictured, the class included Debbie Blais of Bethel, Walter Drakus of Andover, Steven Evans of Bryant Pond, Gina Hotham of Bryant Pond, Alana Kennagh of Bethel, Gordon Peace of Milton Plantation, and Nathanael Thibodeau of Andover. Drakus and Peace both enlisted in the U.S. Army following completion of high school requirements earlier in the year.

Personally, I prefer a quieter spot to stretch out, although I have resorted to the yard, which is not as quiet as once it was. This notice is for all Woodstock Children ages 10 to 13.

Do we have an opportunity for you!

The Maine Conservation School has graciously offered the Town of Woodstock a pair of one week scholarships. Two will be given at no charge, one to a Woodstock boy and one to a Woodstock girl, between the age of 10 and 13. All you need to do to apply is to write a note to the Woodstock Board of Selectmen and tell them that you would be interested in going to camp for a week. The names will be selected at random. More information and applications are available at the Town Office. The drawing will be held on

White Mountain National Forest

The Androscoggin Ranger District of the White Mountain National Forest invites all hiking enthusiasts to celebrate National Trails Day by joining in two upcoming trails maintenance weekends, June 5-6 and June 12-13.

The work days are planned for folks who want to volunteer their time to help with basic maintenance needed to get the trails in good condition for the summer hiking season. Volunteering a total of 16 hours over the course of the four work days will earn volunteers a free parking pass for the use on the White Mountain National Forest, valid for one year.

Volunteers are encouraged to sign up prior to the work days by calling Chris Joosen, Forest Service trails manager, at (603) 466-2713, ext. 215, although preregistration is not required. Volunteers can choose any or all of the four work days, meeting at the back of the Androscoggin Ranger Station (Route 16, Gorham, N.H.) at 8 a.m. on each work day to receive work assignments, instructions, and tools. A Forest Service trails crew member will accompany each volunteer crew for the day until about 4:30

Work is planned for people of all abilities, from easy hikes to more difficult terrain. Children should be accompanied by a parent and be able to work safely for the day. Basic maintenance requires the use of hand tools to trim vegetation on trailsides and clean out drainage structures. Volunteers should dress for the weather, wear sturdy boots, and bring a lunch, water, and insect repellent if needed.

Bethel Historical Society's Regional History Center

The grand opening of the Bethel Historical Society's Robinson House will be held at 6 p.m. on Thursday, June 3, at the Robinson House, next door to the Dr. Moses Mason House.

This building will be the site for a much-expanded museum shop and an exhibit on the history of the house and the families who have resided here since 1821. On the third floor are now found the offices of the executive director, the office secretary, and the book-

At 6 p.m. the official opening of the new museum shop will be held. There will be tours of the Robinson House between 6 and 7 p.m. At 7 p.m., there will be a ribbon cutting in front of the Robinson House. At 7:20 p.m., the presentation of a special necklace to benefit the capital campaign will be made by the donor, James Mann of Mountain Mann Jewelers. At 7:30 p.m., Randall H. Bennett, curator of collections and assistant director, will make a presentation on the architectural history of the Robinson House. He will be followed by the executive director, Stan Howe, who will speak on the families who have occupied the house since it was built in 1821.

Everyone is welcome to attend. Refreshments will be served.

The 20th annual Faye Taylor Memorial Art Show was held on Saturday, May 29, at the Bethel Historical Society's Dr. Moses Mason House. The show features a competition for cash prizes for elementary students in SAD44 to submit a work of art based on an annual historical theme. This year's choice selected by the Art Committee was covered bridges. Horses, wagons, oxen, people of the past were also suggested, as were mountains, rivers, rocks, and flowers as part of the entry.

There was a good response to this year's contest and the entries were particularly good. Judges for the 1999 show were Tim Kavanagh, Judy Richardson and Sandra Clem-

Winners in Division I (Grades One and Two) were Jessica Turner, first prize, C.P.S., Grade Two; Lucas Zale, second prize, C.P.S., Grade Two; Arete Maselli, third prize, A.E.S., Grade One; Division II (Grades three and four): Mark Emerson, first prize, A.E.S., Grade Three; Keagan Easter, second prize, A.E.S., Grade Three; Danielle Henley, third prize, C.P.S., Grade Three; Division III: Matthew Mills, first prize, T.M.S., Grade Six; Danna Wilson, second prize, C.P.S., Grade Five; Joel Lincoln, third prize, T.M.S., Grade Six. A special Judge's Award was also conferred upon Philippe Grant.

The Faye Taylor Art Show honors the memory of Faye Sanborn Taylor (1908-1972), a local artist who was very interested in art for young artists. She was also a founder of the Bethel Historical Society in 1966. The annual show is part of the educational programming of the society, which offers a variety of regional history activities for students of all ages.

HELP IS JUST MINUTES AWAY--Lifeflight of Maine met recently in Bethel with members of 13 different agences to coordinate response procedures for the air ambulance service. The training was sponsored by Northern Oxford Mutual Aid, and arranged by assistant chiefs Mike Jodrey of the Bethel Fire Department and Bob Hutchins of the Andover Fire Department. Lifeflight supplements local emergency services by cutting down substantially the travel time to hospitals for critically injured or ill patients. The fire departments will work with Lifeflight to set up predesignated landing zones in the area. (Photo by Ray Seames)

Bethel Library

It's spring and the Bethel Library is getting ready for its annual Perennial Plant Sale. If you want to donate your perennial "extras" for this event or if you would like to help out in any way please contact Melody at 824-0405, Betsy at 824-2261 or Nancy at 824-4095.

The library is also gearing up for the Summer Reading Program. This program is going on its 11th year. The library along with Pizza Hut and the Department of Education hope to encourage children to read during their summer vacation. The program is open to all local children. Children may sign up at the circulation desk starting the week of June 14.

The following patrons once again donated books, videotapes and audio tapes to the library. Thank you. Robert James, the Family of Anne Fenney, Linda Gamble, Karen Swanson, Lorrie Hoeh and John Starr. We would also like to thank Kathy Hooke for ordering the library a subscription to "Poets" and "Writers" magazines.

Oxford County Republicans

State Sen. James Libby (R-Buxton), who is contemplating a run for governor in 2002, was the featured speaker at the May meeting of the Oxford Country Republican Committee held at Market Square Restaurant. Sen. Libby pointed out that Maine's burden for state and local taxes is the highest in the Northeast, except for New York.

If Maine is to attract more economic development, the state must improve its position in regard to taxes. Also hurting the state eco-nomically is the high cost of energy and the level of regulation. In addition, he said Maine must become more retiree-friendly.

During the business meeting, Greg Humble, an intern in Sen. Snowe's Auburn office, reported on the senator's efforts on a number of issues, including ice-storm relief for Maine. Jane Desaulniers, of Snowe's Auburn office, reported that Matt MacIsaac of Mexico would be a summer intern. Jarrod

Crockett, who represented state Committeeman Stan Howe at the State Committee meeting in Bangor, reported on the campaign workshop he attended, state Committeewoman Becky Kendall of Bethel reviewed the issues facing the State Committee. From the Bethel

Farmers' Market The Bethel Farmers' Market will begin on June 5 and will be open every Saturday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon in the parking lot of the Bethel Family Health Center until the end of October. The market members are Keith and Norma Hodsdon, Kathy and Dick Bennett, David and Ann Kimball, Ellie MacMunn, Liz Theriault, Catherine DiCocco, Tim McGuire, Beth Myers, Ginger Kelly, Daniel and Holly Perron. They will be selling a variety of fresh high-quality products. In the beginning the products will consist mainly of seedlings, herbs, perennials, poultry products, butter, baked goods, jams, jellies, honey and maple syrup. As the season progresses, we will add a variety of berries, cut and dried flowers and a large variety of high-quality vegetables in season.

About the

Seventy-five percent of the products for sale must be grown on the vendor's farm; the 25 percent that can be purchased for resale must be produced in Maine and within 25 miles of the market.

This market has been running for many years and is well attended by the local townspeople as well as people from nearby locations and vacationers.

The members of the Bethel Farmers' Market are planning to have a demonstration day one Saturday a month or more if there are many interested participants. If you do quilting, shear sheep, do woodcarving or any similar type of crafts and are interested in demonstrating them, please contact Kathy Bennett at 824-2797.

We look forward to greeting all of our faithful customers and hope to make many new acquaintances.

in Kentucky. He became district commissioner upon moving to the town of Mexico.

Work as a facilities engineer at the Andover Earth Station, owned by COMSAT, brought him to Mexico and the next year to Andover, to live.

He was a member of the Blazing Star Lodge 30, AF & AM, Knights Templar, Kora Shrine Temple, Andover Fire Department as dispatcher, a very active member of the Andover Congregational Church, where he had served as a deacon and a trustee, and was a very active member of Napoleon Ouellette Post 24, American Legion in Rumford, where he served as treasurer last year and was presently a member of the executive committee. He enjoyed woodworking and had made many items for his family and friends. Other hobbies included singing and playing guitar and stock car racing, as a spectator and in earlier years as a mechanic.

He and his wife Judy especially enjoyed traveling, and their grandchildren. They wintered at their home in Andover and spent their summers at their cottage at Worthley Pond in Peru.

Survivors include his wife of Andover; three sons and their wives, Bobby Jr. and Linda of Deltona, Fla., David K. and Britta of Gardiner, Willard Lee and his companion, Chandra, of Amesbury, Mass.; and six grandchildren. He was predeceased by a brother, Leslie David Jr.

Funeral services will be held Thursday, June 3, 1 p.m. at the Meader & Son Funeral Home, 3 Franklin Street, Rumford, with Pastor Jane Rich officiating. Interment will be in Woodlawn Cemetery, Andover. Donations may be made to MEDCARE, 119 Main Street, Mexico, ME 04257, in his memory.

Thank You

It is with great humbleness that I express my gratitude and thanks for the outpouring of love, caring, concern and assistance during my emergency cancer surgery and since my return home. It would be impossible to include everyone, but you know who you are and please know how much my family and I appreciate your support and encouragement.

The many cards, the flowers and plants, the meals prepared, the house cleaning, the weed and feed crew, my hairdresser, the loam for my "healing garden", my gift from Ruthie, the daily pep talks with Ann, the prayers and support from my church family and the offers of transportation for my chemo have been overwhelming. Thank you.

The understanding and patience of my co-workers materializes in their willingness to add extra duties to their busy days so that business will proceed as usual. Thank you.

There aren't enough words to adequately express the comfort and peace that the presence of our friend and pastor, John Williams gave to us during that very trying time. Thank you.

To our daughter Laurie, who has given us 4 weeks of her caregiving and her family who have allowed her to be gone from their home - our loving gratitude for all that you have done to make this time easier for us. To Randy, Cathy, Sharon, and Rich - your visits, phone calls, and words of encouragement have made some hard times easier to face. Thank you. To my husband for being there when I needed you - I love you.

Mr. & Mrs. Mitchell Maddocks

Brandy Lynn Russo and Mitchell Lester Maddocks of Locke Mills were united in marriage on May 2, 1999, at the Unitarian-Universalist. Church in Bryant Pond, with the Rev. Ed Gammon officiating.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father, and wore an antique gown. The bride's bouquet consisted of white bridal roses with hanging

The matron of honor was Julie Cummings, sister-in-law of the bride. Bridesmaids were Michelle Winslow, Penny Taylor, Patty Tucker and Netty Kimball. The flower girl was Alexa Maddocks, the groom's daughter, and the ring bearer was Taylor Maddocks, also daughter of the groom.

The best man was Phil Maddocks, father of the groom. Ushers were Scott Maddocks, Tim Maddocks, Jason Maddocks and Frank Kimball. A reception followed at the Locke Mills Legion Hall. Brandy is the daughter of Alan Russo of East Monmouth and the late Noreen Russo. The bridegroom is the son of Judy VanVielt of Westbrook and Phil Maddocks of Rumford.

The couple traveled to Colorado and Arizona on their wedding trip. They are residing in Locke Mills.

"Thanks"

It's such a little word No bigger than a minute But there's a whole world of meaning in it.

Thanks! for the lovely party honoring my ninetieth birthday - attended by so many dear friends, family, and relatives. The original song composed by Ethel Bean Turner was a big hit.

The many (nearly ninety) beautiful cards and gifts were deeply appreciated. Thank you all again. Alice Hunter Kimball
